Annie,

I do hope that we will have some statewide agreement as to summons process. This information is very helpful.

Thank you,

Hi Paul,

Unfortunately, this is my schedule only and always subject to change. We have created a court database within the Drug Lab. Once a summons is received either by fax or mail, the information will be entered and the chemist will have some idea where they should be.

As for our backlog, it is ridiculous.

I hope this is helpful. Let me know if you need anything else.

See below for statistical data: (very small % of error, < 5%).

Annie,

Mark Boivin sent me this attached list of January subpoenas. Is this just your Court schedule, or is this for all the analysts.

Although there has not been a statewide meeting for some time, I believe there is one scheduled for January. A list like this could be influential when we attempt to discuss some statewide plan on summoning analysts.

By the way are there any statistics as to the number of times a lab result has proven to not be drugs? It came up during the course of a trial where we proved the drugs circumstantially.

I assume the backlog just keeps getting bigger?

Thanks, Paul
